Art Unit: 1631

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, 23-27, and 62, drawn to hybrid ligands and fusion polypeptides, classified in class 568, subclass 8 and class 530, subclass 350.
- II. Claim 22, drawn to nucleic acids, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.
- III. Claims 28-42, 50-55, 63, and 65, drawn to methods for identifying polypeptide sequences and methods of doing business, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- IV. Claims 43-46, 48, and 49, drawn to methods for determining whether polypeptides bind to one another, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- V. Claims 47 and 56-58, drawn to methods of identifying ligands, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- VI. Claims 59-61, drawn to kits containing nucleic acids, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other for the following reasons. The hybrid ligands of Group I are materially different from and are therefore independent and distinct from the nucleic acids of Group II and the kits of Group VI. The hybrid ligands of Group I may be used for purposes other than the methods of Groups III-V (e.g., in affinity chromatography). The nucleic acids of Group II are not required for the methods of Groups III-V. The nucleic acids of Group II are distinct from the nucleic acids in the kits of Group VI because the nucleic acids of Group II do not encode the same polypeptides as those of Group VI. Thus, the nucleic acids of Group II are not part of the kits of Group VI. The methods of Groups III-V may be practiced independently of one another. The kits of Group VI may be used in methods other than those of Groups III-V (e.g., in affinity chromatography).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1631

To search any two groups as outlined above would create an undue burden for the U.S. PTO because the searches of the non-patent literature are not only non-overlapping to any appreciable extent, but are also divergent in nature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Reminder Regarding In re Ochiai and In re Brouwer

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
